PREFACE

From time immemorial gems have been used by people in different ways. It has curative power as well as the power to pour in fortune and drive away the evil of our planetary position. Certain gems and stones have magical powers of healing and changing the fortune. Gems have made lives of many individuals happier and more successful. They are widely used to get benefit from the planets as these little gems serve as a never-ending source of the rays of the planet and continue even after years. According to astrology and numerology, gems counteract the bad effects of planets and bring us luck, fortune, prosperity, status, knowledge, concentration, good health, name and fame.

In this book, I have tried to give a detailed description of various gems and their qualities, including not only 'Nav Ratnas', the nine precious gems, but also many substitute gems, that do wonders when they are worn.

Appropriate care should be taken while choosing a particular gem. In this book, I have discussed in detail the various methods of selecting gems. Gems can be selected on the basis of our Zodiac or the star we are born under. Gems can also be chosen according to our name's first letter, date and month of birth.

It will be interesting to note that some gems have with them the perennial power to push us forward in an occupation. Many professionals, businessmen and service persons have benefited by wearing the gem which helps them go up in their respective occupations, multiple profits. Gems also lessen the scope of loss and protect them from all adversaries. A person aspiring to join films can wear Cat's Eye or Garnet by selecting it according to his date of birth or star and get to the top position. Similarly, there is a gem for every occupation.

I have also discussed the effects of gems on health. How efficiently our health problems can be minimised by imputing a particular colour in our body and adjusting the colour rays by wearing the correct gems, has been clearly explained.

Gems work magically and do wonders when we make the ring at the appropriate period of the transit of planets, and after doing the necessary rituals.

I have tried to give detailed description of selection and benefits of gems in this book to derive maximum results for better life and prosperity.

Influence of Gems

Gems are found in almost all parts of the world. India has been very rich in terms of gem stones. They are found in abundant quantities in the country, especially in Madhya Pradesh, Orissa, Bihar, Maharashtra, Andhra Pradesh, Kerala and Karnataka.

Gem stones are useful for our health, longevity, name, fame, prosperity and fortunes. In ancient times, kings and princes used to keep gem stones in their treasury to ensure prosperity. They would also set these gem stones in jewellery and wear them with pride.

Gem stones have different effects on different people. There have been instances where childless women after wearing a particular gem began conceiving. Some kings got victorious in the battles by wearing some prescribed gems. Certain gem stones are known to have cured people of some dreaded diseases. As a result of these beneficial effects, some ancient scholars began conducting research about these stones. Their experiments proved the beneficial effects of gems and stones. This inspired different types of studies about gems, which were developed as Science of Gemology. Thus, Varaha Mihira, one of the greatest ancient scholars, wrote a book about gems called Ratna Dipika.

Our ancient scholars also used gem stones in the medicines in the form of Bhasmas to cure many diseases.

Wearing correct gem stones at suitable times has proved very helpful in achieving success in wealth, health and succeeding in other matters. There are so many gem stones, but only nine gem stones are considered as 'Precious Gems'.

These are called the 'Nav Ratnas'. Although there are many gem stones in the world, these nine gem stones have been given great importance by our ancient scholars. These are powerful gems, which reflect the strength of planets, and also produce changes in our body. Their corresponding planets are listed on page 12.

The nine precious gems identified in this respect are Ruby, Diamond, Emerald, Yellow Sapphire, Blue Sapphire, Gomed, Pearl, Cat's Eye and Coral.

Of all these gems, only Pearl and Coral are taken out from the ocean, while Cat's Eye, Gomed, Yellow Sapphire, Blue Sapphire, Emerald, Ruby are mined from the earth. The gems found under the earth have mineral content. In fact, each gem has a prescribed content of minerals. Our body requires minerals for growth. If any mineral is deficient in our body, we suffer from ill health, depending upon the extent of the deficiency. To make up for this deficiency physicians advise us to take some medicine, which contains those minerals. If we take such medicines, our ailment would be cured. Similarly, gems, which have certain mineral content, adjust our mineral deficiency and improve our health. Medicines can cure only the physical ailments, whereas gems help us surmount our difficulties, and achieve wealth and prosperity.

Gems have the power to keep a balance among these minerals in our body.

The suitable gem, which we choose to wear, should touch our body. If we wear a suitable gem, the cosmic rays of the planet related to that particular gem, enter our body through that gem and produce good effect on us. Hence, we get success in our life. This is "Good Luck".

How is it possible for a planet to affect a particular individual who has worn its particular gem stone, among crores of people in the world and produce its good effect? How can that planet produce its good effect through a small and tiny gem stone?

This doubt may arise. But then how the television is controlled by remote control; how the rocket and its fixed camera are controlled by electronic computers? In the same manner, planets are also controlled by the gem stones.

The vibrations produced by planets are always negative. But the vibrational power of the gem stone is always positive. When the negative meets the positive, they are both neutralised.

Human beings suffer in three ways—physically, mentally and spiritually. Gems help by transmitting planetary rays into the body of the sufferer. When it is hot Sun or rain, we use umbrella. The umbrella protects us from the rain or hot rays of the Sun. In the same manner, when we use the proper gem, the negative rays of the planets are filtered by it and only the beneficial rays are allowed to enter the body. Thus the gems act as a shield, and guard against the evil influences of the planets.
